Raid your kitchen for different equipment that make different sounds. For example, Pans hit with different spoons - metal, plastic or wooden. Metal lids to hit together. Baking trays or cheese graters - scrape with washing up brushes, scourer, forks, potato mashers. Drying racks use a metal spoon and move this up and down the rack.

Have time to explore - your child might come up with their own way off playing music with the equipment.

Copy what your child does.

See if they will copy what you do.

Put music on that they could play their equipment along with. It can be any song, maybe a song you know they really like. I have put some examples of songs with a good beat/rhythm and different sounds: -

Jonas Brothers - What A Man Gotta Do

Imagine Dragons - Believer

Pharrell Williams - Happy

David Guetta - Titanium ft. Sia

Bob Marley - Three Little Birds (Don't Worry About a Thing)

Phil Collins - In The Air Tonight

Michael Jackson - Beat it

George Ezra - Shotgun

• You could add food to create different sounds to - rice being dropped onto a baking tray, pasta/cereal put into a pan and then shake it etc.
