

“There’s an alien in your book” by Tom Fletcher

Oh no! A spaceship has crash-landed in your book!	Loud noise - tambourine
What a lot of smoke! I think there’s something there... Blow the smoke away and turn the page	Bubbles Blow
AAAAARGH! It’s an ALIEN! Look at that big round head...yuck! And those wibbly-wobbly antennae...double yuck! And all those slimy suckers...yuck yuck yuck! Make your scariest face and shout... go away, alien!	Big ball Jelly Slime
Oh no! It’s crying... perhaps we shouldn’t have been so mean. Pat the aliens head to make it feel better	Water spray Toy alien/ big ball
That’s better- look, it’s smiling! (I don’t know what it’s saying though do you?) Zaa-zee-zoo! No we need to help Alien get back up into space. But...
It’s spaceship is broken! We’ll have to find another way. Jiggle the book up and down that might bounce it back into space...	Bounce on ball/ trampette/ peanut roll
Wow! You bounced Alien high, but not high enough. Try turning the book upside down...Good – now turn the page. Maybe this will get Alien back up into space!
Look! Alien is standing on its head- but it’s not in space! Try lifting the book high up in the air and turn the page...	Balloon to hit up high
Uh-oh! Alien’s very high up, but it’s STILL not in space – and it looks a little scared... RIP!	Rip big piece of paper
Phew! Alien’s safe back on the ground. But aliens don’t belong on Earth – they’re much too different. Earth is for people...and pugs... frogs and bugs, fish and snails, bees and whales! Close your eyes and IMAGINE these creatures to show Alien why it doesn’t belong here.	Soil Toy bugs, fish etc.
Hang on – all those things look pretty different too! Alien, you’ve got boggly eyeballs, wibbly-wobbly antennae and skin sloppier than a slug but... we’re all weird and wonderful...	Googly eyes Jelly Slime
So you’re welcome to stay here on Planet Earth! Now, if Alien is going to stay, I think it needs a home in this book. Use your finger to draw a house shape here then close your eyes, say zaa-zee-zoo, and turn the page...	Template house to trace finger over, piece of paper to draw house shape onto
That looks like the perfect home! Hmm- I think Alien needs a friend to play with. Shout...come and be friends with Alien! As loudly as you can.	Microphone

Well done! It worked! You called a friendly little monster. I think he'll make a great friend for Alien – don't you? And monster has a surprise for Alien	Toy monster/teddy
He's fixed the spaceship! Now they are ready for an...ADVENTURE! Press the button on the spaceship and count down 5,4,3,2,1 LIFT OFF! Wave goodbye to Alien and Monster and say....zaa-zee-zoo!	Mac button Cardboard box for spaceship
